Crisis to Career

An Anonymous Success Story...

“Center for People in Transition Programs at RCGC are wonderful resources in our community. I lost my job and it is not just a financial struggle, but an emotional one as well; especially for women in their 50’s who only worked part time most of their married life while raising their children, are divorced or widowed, and are now trying to reenter the workforce. The Introduction to Computers class with Amy has given me back my self-confidence! It’s helping me to review, refresh, and relearn basic computer skills. She is patient and kind with all of us and she is helping to empower us so that we have the skills and confidence to apply for employment.

This program is an asset to those in transitions and thanks to all the staff that believe and advocate for this program.”
