

ABILITIES SOLUTIONS - VetAbility

is proud to present a success story about...Mike

Mike proudly served as an aviation mechanic in the US Navy from 1979-1983. After thirty years of setbacks and heartache, including divorce, death, unemployment and homelessness, Mike is now self-sufficient and ready to embark on a new chapter of his life. Even during his darkest hour, Mike's determination never wavered. He has an inspiring spirit that cannot be broken. Mike was not only the recipient of numerous VetAbility services which encompassed food and shelter, resume building and working through plenty of red tape, he is also a VetAbility volunteer. This past fall, he "paid it forward" by addressing United Way employee campaign groups, volunteering at special events, and reaching out to veterans in need.

With help from VetAbility and its unique collaboration efforts, Mike will be using his tools once again, as he heads to Florida for motorcycle mechanic training. Working with VetAbility staff, he was able to secure reliable transportation and housing. His future is filled with possibilities. Although his road to self-sufficiency was not easy, he persevered in true Semper Fi fashion. We applaud his tenacity and we were honored to have served such a commendable serviceman.
