

Girl Scouts of Central & Southern NJ Presents: A Success Story About Daisy Troop 68115

We have held one meeting for every troop level for the 2022/2023 season. All of our girls are working towards the Girl Scout way badge for their specific troop level. Our Daisy Troop 68115 made birthday cards for Girl Scout founder Juliette Gordon Low, and learned about how she sold her precious strand of pearls to purchase a location for Girl Scout headquarters in the early 20th century. Every girl at every troop level was asked to choose what badges they will earn this year. Most of the girls attending this program are from Paulsboro, they are classmates and already have a bond once they arrive at our meetings. With the new girls they do not know, they have been extremely welcoming and are showing them the ropes on how to be a sibling to every Girl Scout. We are making sure that every Girl Scout feels seen and heard at the meetings, especially when selecting our badges for the year. Many of our Paulsboro girls and their families took advantage of our event at Camp Sacajawea for Dia de los Muertos. They all had a wonderful time learning about the way that another culture celebrates lost relatives while also experiencing camp for the first time! They are all excited at the prospect of camping this summer.
