

A Success Story submitted by Scouting America – Garden State Council showcasing: ASHLEY, A SCOUTING VOLUNTEER

Fun, engaging, inspiring, and informative! It's where quality leadership methods are designed by a network of adult volunteers committed to providing a quality program to youth. With a wide array of course topics covering every aspect of Scouting, there is something for everyone. The only downfall is that there are too many wonderful courses to choose from! While I can't pinpoint a favorite, the class that inspired me the most was the Special Needs course, so much so that it guided me towards helping to create Garden State Council's first Special Needs Committee. Without the University of Scouting, and not having the ability to associate with like-minded Scouters, I likely wouldn't have gone down this rewarding path.
